How things are in the Burren post lockdown

JARLATH O'DWYER

Welcome to the 8th edition of the Visit the Burren Newsletter! Since we were last in touch, we have been on roller coaster journey through the Covid 19 crisis and are now preparing for its aftermath. It has been a tough year, but the Burren and Cliffs of Moher Geopark is a resilient place and will be here to be seen and enjoyed long after this pandemic has passed. Our businesses are opening gradually and are welcoming visitors from all over Ireland. As business owners we are getting used to the new operational procedures and have taken every precaution to make our premises and our destination safe, with all of our members committing to Covid 19 Safety Charter. If we do not see you this year, we look forward to welcoming you as soon as possible.

The Burren Ecotourism Network

As part of the recovery program for tourism in the Burren & Cliffs of Moher Geopark, the Burren Ecotourism Network have been working hard in creating awareness among the domestic market to help bridge huge shortfall in international visitors in 2020. Currently, the Burren Ecotourism Network is comprised of 65 businesses that, since the start of the Covid 19 pandemic, have collaborated in delivering a regional response to the crisis.

As well as having launched the Burren Baskets and Burren Holiday Vouchers on-line, the Burren Ecotourism Network has also worked hard on making the destination a desirable option among Irish people that would traditionally have gone abroad, or may have visited here many years ago by running generous holiday competitions. Keep an eye on www.burren.ie for further holiday competitions!!

The Burren Ecotourism Network is a membership organisation embedded in a sustainable tourism ethos. In line with international sustainability principles, the purpose of our network is to connect tourism enterprises in the Burren region and enable them to work together to deliver economic, social and environmental benefits, both for themselves and for their communities. The Network has existed for the past decade and is comprised of a substantial number of well-established businesses that collectively employ over 1,000 people in the area.

CODE OF PRACTICE

Our Code of Sustainable Tourism Practice which is the only one of its kind in Ireland has provided a standard that monitors waste output along with water and energy usage and assists the businesses in becoming increasingly more efficient. Burren Ecotourism Network member businesses range from hotels, guest houses, glamping and camping providers, restaurants, pubs, island ferries, castles, caves cliffs, walking guides, cycling guides, farm tours, distilleries, brewers, butchers, bakers, fish smokers, retailers, heritage sites, food producers, growers and interpretive centres!!

The wide span of experiences and offerings allow the network to offer itineraries and trails close proximity that visitors can chose from.

The Burren offers its guests a chance to engage in an action-packed holiday and the reassurance that their trip will have minimal impact on the environment. The businesses engage in initiatives such as Adopt a Hedgerow where groups of members will engage in physically maintaining the ancient walls and hedges that the Burren is famous for!

The Curran family have owned and run the Roadside Tavern in the small, quiet town of Lisdoonvarna (population 1000) since 1973. Pub owner Peter Curran first mentioned the name in 2011 and in 2011 he founded a microbrewery on-site. Burren Brewery, which is named for the special rural ecosystem that covers much of this part of Clare, produces three beers, which are available almost exclusively at the Roadside Tavern. The family's other venture, the Burren Seafood Bar, is also worth a visit for its smoked fish, and the drink! The Gold is a goldenkey lager, Black is a creamy stout that's richer than its more famous Irish counterparts, but you won't go wrong with the malty first which is a personal favourite.

THINGS TO DO NEARBY

Ireland's most famous natural sight, the 120m-high Cliffs of Moher, rises up from the Atlantic just a few kilometres down the road from Lisdoonvarna.

The Burren

As we adapt for Covid 19 restrictions this will be a scaled back version of our usual event. Like everyone, we are trying to make the best decision under very difficult circumstances. We will only open while continuing to respect health safety concerns and by following the latest guidelines.

Our event will take place outdoors, in our garden, with limited roof cover.

We will operate one night per week – Thursdays at 8pm.

Should the weather change we will use our sitting room where we can safely cater for 8-10 people. The large double doors will be left open. Seating will adhere to the social distancing regulations whether inside the house or outside in the garden.

We have signed up to the Doolin Tourism Covid 19 Charter and will be focusing on hygiene before, during, and after each session.

We will host a great event of traditional music and stories and offer guests complimentary refreshments.

We will not be able to shake hands with our visitors, but we will give them a great welcome when they arrive at Doolin Music House.

St.Tola Farm is closed temporarily for farm visits & tours due to the pandemic but we will be reviewing our decision in September with notifications on our website & social media platforms.

We would like to thank our fellow network members & the public who have supported us to date & we look forward to working with them as we all move forward!
